“When I came home, it really hit me with everything you said about all the music. After being convicted for about 36 hours, I broke down and destroyed 135 CDs that were nothing but garbage! Thank you for that! I never really realized how much that did influence my life! I will never forget you.”

the BEGINNING:

Being a farm kid from Pulaski, Wisconsin, Tina loved adventure and thinking big. Her dad taught her that hard work was the key to success and her mom's boldness and humor helped balance her out. She never thought there was something she couldn't do and literally lived life in a way that expressed that.

At the age of 16, she gave her life to Christ and strived from that day forward to be on the front lines of the battle as a culture warrior. Her media show and blog expresses her thoughts on being in the world but not of it.

At the age of 20, Tina went from baling hay and milking cows to working as an actress in Hollywood. While living in Los Angeles, Tina wanted to learn as much as possible regarding how the entertainment industry worked. Therefore, she got a job as an assistant to a major casting director at Universal Studios to learn the inside scoop of the movie making business. In addition, she joined the Screen Actors Guild, Film Society and Women in Film. What Tina learned first hand, is the reason she couldn't remain silent and her speaking career was launched.

Tina has spoken at music festivals, schools, parent events, conferences and camps and has opened for bands like Third Day, Jeremy Camp, Jeff Deyo, Rotterdam November, The Museum, Chris August & Skillet.

“It was inspiring to hear someone tell a group of high school kids that we can make a positive difference in our world. A lot of people think my generation is full of apathetic teens who only want to party and live without consequences.”
