Tina Marie,

Hi Tina, my name is Brian Alba, (no relation to Jessica). I met you last night at the end of the Issues conference in Heber Utah.

Thank you, thank you, thank you, thank you, thank you, soooooooo much!! I loved your presentation, and I can't even begin to tell you how thankful I am that you are combating the evil influences that plague our society. THE WORLD NEEDS MORE PEOPLE LIKE YOU! People who care more about the sanctity of life than their own pocket books. People who are courageous enough to fight back against the tide of popular culture. People who understand the greater meaning of life and who devote their time, influence, and God-given talents to promote morals and values. I could go on and on, but suffice it to say - I didn't want you to end your presentation last night. I was just screaming inside... "This is exactly what we need to hear!" I have been working in the field of social work for over 12 years and I have seen and heard every heart breaking story you can imagine. I've seen first hand how the media is at the root of nearly every problem I've worked with. And I can't to tell you how happy I was to hear you attack the lies that fill our minds with filth.

The whole human race has the same basic needs – love, acceptance and belonging. When those needs go unmet we turn to alternative lifestyles. The media is fully aware of this dilemma and they prostitute it to the fullest. They bombard us with lies that promise a false sense of security while we become products of a profit margin.

So again, thank you for fighting back. What a world it would be if we were bombarded instead with the love of Christ, and with strong family values, morals, wholesome standards and the truth about the real meaning of life. What a beautiful world it would be if we were conditioned instead to love our neighbor, to do good to all men, to put God first in all things and to keep the Golden Rule. I can't say it enough – as a social worker, as a Christian and as a man who wants to raise a family in a safe world, thank you!

If there is any way I can help your cause please let me know. I've been working in drug prevention for the last two years, and your message is the most pertinent I've heard so far. All my best and God bless you.
